Notes:

Section 80 to 83 of the Building Act 1984 gives details of the procedures to be followed by a person intending to demolish a building, and the powers of the local authority to serve notices on that person requiring that certain obligations are met. It also describes the penalties on summary of a conviction for contravening or failing to comply with the requirements.

No person shall begin a demolition of a building described in the act UNLESS notice of an intention has been given to the local authority AND a minimum period of six weeks from the given of the notice has been subsequently elapsed. The demolition can only commence sooner if the local authority has served its notices in accordance with sections 81 and 82 of the Act before the expiration of the six week time period.

Section 81 notices from the local authority may require a person to carry out certain works, including those intending to ensure stability and weather resistance of any adjacent building, condition in which the site is to be left, ceiling or disconnection of drainage and other services and conditions subject to which the demolition is to be undertaken. Section 81 notices will also state the requirements for persons to notify the local authority before certain operations are carried out on site. Further information regarding these matters may be obtained by contacting Building Control at the address overleaf.

The attention of persons giving notice is also drawn to the necessity to obtain any Planning Permission, listed building or conservation area consent before starting work. Further information regarding these matters may be obtained by contacting the Planning Department.

The attention of persons giving notice is also drawn to the requirements of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 regarding the control of noise from demolition operations, the Clean Air Act 1993 regarding the emission of dark smoke and the requirements of The Environmental Protection Act 1990 concerning the disposal of waste material (i.e. to a licensed site). Further information regarding these matters may be obtained from the Environmental Health Department.

Safe working practices on site are a requirement of the Construction, Design and Management Regulations and the construction (Health, Safety and Welfare) Regulations. Further details regarding these matters may be obtained from the Health and Safety Executive. The Highways Department and Licensing Department should be contacted with regard to obtaining road opening permits, scaffolding, hoarding or skip licences, or any other matter affecting the highways.

Party Wall etc. ACT 1996

Your attention is drawn to the Party Wall etc. Act 1996, which came into force on the 1st July 1997. Independent (legal) advice should be sought on its implications in relation to the works detailed in this notice.

Further information and advice concerning the Building Regulations and Planning matters may be obtained from Building Control or the Planning Department on 388111 at Scaitcliffe House, Ormerod Street, Accrington, BB5 0PF
